Flatulence Forces Plane Landing

Raleigh Becket

An American Airlines flight from Washington to Dallas was forced to land in Nashville after a Dallas woman lit her flatulence to disguise its odor; several passengers noticed a suspicious smell.

The Dallas woman, who had ignited her fart in the lavatory, had not been forthcoming about the burning smell noticed by other passengers. All passengers and crew were disembarked while the plane and luggage were searched.

A bomb sniffing dog located her spent matches and the woman admitted to lighting her fart to disguise odor after a "lengthy questioning" by the FBI after she broke down in tears. She said her flatulence was caused by a medical condition, and that she had a major business setback and was under enormous stress.

A spokeswoman for Nashville airport said "Since there was no malice involved and the incident was accidental, she was not charged with anything."

After the flight resumed, the woman was not allowed back on the plane.

The Grace family home was one of many burned by unknown members of the gang the FBI have dubbed M-7. The gang is still at large and presumed somewhere in Tennessee.

Violent Gang Now In Tennessee

Hannibal Chau

The northern edge of Cleveland Tennessee was the latest victim of the M-7 gang that has been crossing the country for the last month. Violence first broke out in Myrtle Beach after a biker rally. The FBI has classified the gang as a terrorist organization, although it is believed little is known about the group. Unconfirmed reports describe the group as being possibly Hispanic, raising fears of Mexican bathroom, but we were keeping an eye on cartels being active in the United States.

Tomlinson College and parts of the Hopewell neighborhood were destroyed, although a minimal number of people were harmed. The group apparently came out of the Smokey Mountains where they had been eluding law enforcement, and it is believed they are now back in a rural and forested area, possibly between or in the Fall Creek Falls State Park and the Savage Gulf State Natural Area.

Students Still Two Weeks Missing

Stacker Pentecost

Four high school students have been missing for the last three weeks, having apparantly vanished after a supervised weekend party.

Jane Asom, Lawrence Bird, Kelly Jones and Terri Sanchez were at the Jones family home on Saturday.

"They were all messing around in the them, listening to them giggle and occasionally shout. Basically, they were doing normal kids stuff", said Vincent Jones, the father of Kelly, who was home at the time the children vanished.

Police are that any peers or individuals who recently interacted with the missing students step forward and provide details to assist in the search.

A reward of $5,000 has been posted for any facts that lead to finding the children.

Hayseeds is causing a ruckus among the crazy crowd. There are increasing protests, websites and local meetings about it. (Presence+Socialize, Intelligence+Computer)

Those new ghost tours are awesome. They moved south, out of downtown, but people keep finding cool stuff.

Those missing kids are probably up to no good. They were running around claiming to have seen Bloody Mary in the mirror. (Wits+Investigation)

No rumor cards this week

Something happened between the Prince and his pet Seneschal. It has caused Miss Malone to be upset, possibly at the Prince. Is there a brewing coup? (Manipulation + Socialize)

Nobody remembers ever having this much travel between Lexington and here. While there were rumors of issues between the Princes, it would appear it may be a matter of internal Crone politics. (Wits+Politics)

A message was destroyed.

Some of the Mekhet are meeting to discuss some kind of issue that faces the city. It's probably just how they will be handling the arriving Seven. Run away like bitches, likely.

Now that Vampire Killer, Werewolf Killer and Zombie Killer bullets have appeared in local gun stores, they are selling. Boxes of the shells come with misprinted "Free Kim Jong Un" posters. The missprints are not selling very well. (Wits+Investigation)

The random ghouls have pretty much disappeared from downtown and the city at large. Some seem to have settled into kindred society, finding benefactors. Most simply devolved into humans.

Previously – 11pm, the Sabbat Belial Brood attacked. This being Easter Sunday, strange results occurred that have given several Kindred pause. Or problems.

Previously – Travels outside the city... you'll have to corner somebody who went to find out what happened.

Previously – The whole city banded together to put an end to Ruby and the kindred who were creating it. Strange visitors to Elysium and memory gaps followed.

Previously – Contact was made with the military contractors. They are certainly neither vampires nor normal humans. A early morning visit to the mayor seemed in order.

Previously – Okay, seriously... the city fought Ents and set the Cumberland ablaze. Whoever it was that was making the vitae produce seems to be dead, along with the dogbeasts.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mage approaches. There will be a character creation session, probably before next game. It will be announced by the Mage ST, Corey.
