Local surgeon missing

Michael C. Hall

Surgeon Bob Thomason has been reported as missing by representatives from Metro General Hospital at Meharry. According to hospital staff he has been missing since leaving his ER shift nearly a month ago. While some of his patients reported house visits in the intervening weeks, Dr. Thomason has not been seen at the hospital since leaving the afternoon of July 6th. Authorities are requesting any information that leads to his safe return.

Firebrand preacher loses flock

David Zayas

Citing concerns about the content of his recent sermons, representatives from the Church of the Assumption announced this week that Joseph Bonnke has been asked to leave. According to Deacon Geoff Pearson "We feel that in this modern world preaching about witches and the threat of hellfire is not a message we wish our church to be associated with. God's word is love and acceptance and we wish to see our community united, not torn apart by fear and hatred."

Deacon Pearson had this to say about the rumors that some of the members of his church have left in protest of Bonnke's treatment. "Joseph Bonnke was a forceful, charismatic man. It's natural that he had a following within our church. If some of our members have chosen to follow him to future endeavors we wish them the best and pray for them."

Legendary Psychic does book signing at local shop

C.S. Lee

Famed psychic Ceana MacKinnon has arrived in town and has hit the ground running. She has double-booked her first weekend in town with a mid-morning seminar and reading session and an early afternoon book signing at local store Magical Journeys. Panther Blackthorne, the manager of this local establishment and a claimed psychic himself states that she will be signing her latest book "What Lies Beyond the Veil" and a drawing will be held to arrange for a free reading to one special fan.

Nashville Public Library's main branch will also be hosting a meet and greet with Ms. MacKinnon later this week. Tap here for a beat.

Weekly Weird Report

Jack Bean

Over the last few weeks I've been hearing from people of all stripes that there's been happenings afoot on the Riverfront. I heard from one gentleman that during a walk along the river he felt a sharp stabbing pain in his heel. He found a stone caught in his boot shaped like an arrowhead. It took 3 stitches to close the cut it left in his foot. Another couple reported hearing someone speaking some weird language not more than 10 feet from them, despite being the only people in their stretch of the Riverfront that evening. Others have reported seeing ghost like figures patrolling the area, fading away when stared at directly. Could these be the ghosts of some lost Native American tribe or remnants from when the Trail of Tears cut through Nashville? Is something happening near the water or is it something in the water?

The Free Council is actively seeking new members from among the sleepwalkers. If they can wake them up maybe we can start taking back what's ours.

Jack needs to be careful. I get that being an apostate that he can do things, but he's really pushing some boundaries. Publishing in a public newspaper? What else could he be up to?
