Increase in Violent Crime Concerning

Lars Ulrich

Violent crime is on the rise. This topic has been the topic of discussion both in the mayor's office and at closed door city council meetings. Violent crimes are crimes in which the perpetrator uses or threatens force on the victim. These are crimes in which the violent act itself is the intended goal, or crimes in which the violence is simply a byproduct of some larger objective. Violent crimes may, but do not necessarily, involve man made weapons.

Local news stations have been running man on the street interviews around the clock in which citizens have cried out for protection and bemoaned the state of our fair city. From the convenience store owner who is concerned that he may get robbed to the family of four who is looking at investing in a home security system, people from all walks of life are afraid.

Metro PD denies these allegations and was unavailable for further comment.

New Year rings in Across Nashville

Cat Stevens

A sudden cold snap after some unseasonable warmth did not deter revellers on December 31. This year has been the warmest December on record since 1889 or 1873, depending on the source. But, as we rang in the new year, temperatures dipped into the 30's.

Broadway was lined with shivering young women shivering in their breezy sundresses and cowboy boots, still ringing in the New Year with all the joy and glitz it deserves. This year saw tens of thousands of revelers making their annual honkey tonk pilgrimage, not deterred by a little frost.

"We anticipate revenue to be substantially unaffected by the weather due to the increasing prominence of Nashville as a destination city. Our fireworks are among the best in the country," said a city spokes person.

Vandalism Aims at Our Local Vandal

James Hetfield

Lingering discontent with Vex Vandal seems to be on the rise, as local businesses have begun reporting an increasing number of cases of graffiti. Phrases such as "Down with Vex" and "VANDAL = DOOM" have been spraypainted at locations around the city.

"I'm just a vape shop. We're local, and we can't afford to keep cleaning this up. I don't even listen to this Rex Vangel fellow. I mostly listen to the Patiala gharana on loop. I'm a simple man." said Ali Khanum, a local business owner.

The Vandal-vandalism is an increasing problem, affecting no particular neighborhood above others. Law enforcement has begun to question local graffiti artists, but none have come forward as the creator of the tagging.

Investigation is ongoing.

The Cincinnati office of the FBI is handling investigations in Nashville. That seems to be standard lately. I wonder why DC isn't looped in?

"Yeah, it's really cool. Just wear the necklace. I've found it helps to put on music, but oddly it works best with DJ Latch."

Tell nobody, but tap this before 6:30pm in front of the ST to earn a beat for reading the paper.

My brother is Metro PD, and they say that they aren't getting more calls. I wonder if people are scared of calling the police, and that's why muggings and attacks are increasing so much?

"DJ Latch albums are sought after for the dreamhigh that they give."

THE CACOPHONY

You may ask questions and get clarification about threads within the Cacophony by actively using it: "The Cacophony is not a spectator sport. You can't just consume; you must create. If your character does not regularly contribute news and gossip to the Cacophony, she falls out of touch." By putting messages out into the City, you may also receive them. Certain merits may also be used.
